GREWSOME FIND HINTS AT CRIME

Mangled Body of Elmer Oliver of Near Greenfield, Found on Railroad in Knightstown.

POSSIBLY STRUCK BY A TRAIN

Murder Theory Leads to Arrest of Two Suspicious Characters, Who Are Later Released.

Horribly mangled and torn almost beyond recognition, the body of Elmer Oliver, twenty years of age, of near Greenfield, was found on the Big Four railroad tracks at the Main street crossing in Knightstown yesterday morning. The dead body was first seen by the motorman of the early morning Terre Haute & Eastern Indiana traction car. He reported the find to the proper authorities and the body was removed and later identified.

It was first thought by the police that the young Hancock county man had been murdered and had been placed on the track to cover up the deed. Every indication pointed to that theory. Later in the day they arrested two suspicious characters. The two men established their identity and were later released after a thorough sweating.

The authorities are not yet free from the belief that the young man was murdered, possibly with the intent of robbery. Oliver was last seen alive in a restaurant in Knightstown Saturday evening, when he ordered his supper. He handed the waiter a five dollar bill and said that it was the smallest piece of money which he had. The change was given to him, but when his dead body was found, no money could be found. It can not be learned whether or not he had any more money in his possession. He had only recently been employed at the Maxwell-Briscoe Automobile works in New Castle and received his wages Saturday night.

The theory that is given the most credence is that Young Oliver was either killed in attempting to steal a ride or was struck by the train accidentally. A Benton Harbor excursion train passed through Knightstown Sunday morning between twelve and one o'clock and stopped there to take water. It is possible that he made an attempt to catch that train and was thrown under the wheels and killed. Two fast freights also passed through Knightstown during the night and it is possible that he may have been hit by one of them.

INJURED WHEN BRIDGE BREAKS

Mrs. James Meek is Slightly Hurt
When Buggy Wheel Falls in Hole.

WAS TANGLED UP IN THE LINES

When one of the wheels on the buggy in which she was riding fell through the wooden bridge in Spencer street this morning, Mrs. James Meek was thrown out of the buggy and slightly injured. The horse became frightened when the accident occurred and Mrs. Meek was tangled up in the lines and thrown out. The buggy passed over her body and she was badly bruised by the fall. The frightened horse was stopped before any damage was done. Mrs. Meek lives six miles north of the city on the John Anderson farm.

WILL BUILD AEROPLANES

Said Connersville Men Will Make Tests Near Glenwood.

Milt Holberg and John Carlos today closed a deal for what is known as the Gold Standard farm, of Albert Ficklin, along the Rushville pike near Glenwood, says the Connersville News. The farm contains 40 acres and brought a consideration of $2,000. Messrs. Holberg and Carlos are said to be going into the manufacture of aeroplanes and expect to make their experimental tests on their newly purchased farm.

RETURNS AFTER A 34 YEARS' ABSENCE

Robert Courtney of Deshler, Ohio,
Here Looking For Landmarks of "Junction Road."

RECOGNIZES OLD BRAKEMAN

Robert Courtney of Deshler, Ohio, was in Rushville last Saturday looking up old landmarks of the time when he worked on the "Junction road" (C. H. & D.) thirty-four years ago, but alas, he was unable to find any. He helped build the railroad from Connersville to Indianapolis and all along the route he watched for landmarks he helped to establish himself, but was not able to recognize any. He left Rushville in the fall of 1876. He used to brake on the C. H. & D. railroad with Billy Ragan, when it was known as the Indianapolis Junction. He looked up Billy, who is watchman at the Morgan street crossing, but Billy was unable to recognize him until Mr. Courtney mentioned he was "Little Bob" who used to brake with him. Mr. Courtney went from here to Morristown Saturday evening.

STORM DAMAGED FIELDS IN PATH

Saturday's Wind, Rain, and Hail
Was Very Destructive to Corn,
Oats and Wheat.

PASSED OVER PART OF COUNTY

Since Saturday it has been learned, that the severe rain, wind and hail storm, although is passed over a very small portion of Rush county, was very damaging to everything in its path. The storm came from the southwest and passed over Rushville. It touched the Webb neighborhood southwest of the city and caused the farmers in that vicinity several dollars loss. The high wind tangled the oats in some fields so that it will be almost impossible to cut them. It blew the cut wheat and corn over and also damaged the uncut wheat. The hail was so strong and heavy in some places that it cut the corn down.

RETURNS HOME.

Prosecutor John C. Cheney of Shelbyville has returned home after an extended trip through the West.

TO ATTEND PICNIC.

Judge Will Sparks will go to Shelbyville tomorrow evening to attend the annual lawyers' picnic to be held at Flatrock Cave Wednesday. Judge Sparks returned home Saturday evening, the May term of the Shelby circuit court closing then.

FINALLY DIES AS RESULT OF BURNS

Marguerite Gates, the Nine-Year-Old Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gates Finally Expires.

ACCIDENT HAPPENED JUNE 4

Had Been Suffering Untold Agony for 38 Days—Funeral Will be Wednesday.

After suffering untold agony for thirty-seven days, Marguerite Gates, the nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gates of East Fourth street, finally succumbed last night at ten o'clock, as the result of injuries received from a bad burn on Saturday morning, June 4. The young girl had been suffering intense pain since the accident and her life had almost been despaired of for several days, although the attending physician says that he had always had some hope that a change might come for the better and that she might recover.

The burns were not very deep, but extended over a great part of the surface skin and for that reason were more serious. It is the statement of the physicians that that kind of a burn is much more dangerous. The little Gates girl had been in agony practically all of the time since the accident. All efforts to relieve her have been also fruitless.

For the last few days, she had been unable to take solid food and had been living on practically nothing. In fact most of the time during her illness, she had been unable to eat scarcely anything. The condition of her back and the back part of her legs, which were the most severely burned were horrible and the physician had hardly been able to relieve her of intense pain.

It will be remembered that little Miss Gates was fatally burned early Saturday morning, just after she had arisen from bed. She was wearing her brother's nightgown, of which she was very proud and was making antics on front of an open fire when the night dress caught. The flames enveloped her before she could hardly utter a sound. The mother heard her cries and rushed to the house in time to tear the nightgown off before she was burned to death. The younger brother, Gene, made an attempt to tearing the burning gown off, but was unsuccessful.

Mr. Gates, the father of the victim, is the I. & C. freight agent. The funeral services will be held at the home Wednesday, the definite time not having been settled. The services will be conducted by the Rev. J. W. Turner. Burial will be made in East Hill cemetery.

HURT IN GAS EXPLOSION

Mrs. Thomas Newhouse of Arlington
Burned About Face.

Mrs. Thomas Newhouse of Arlington was badly burned about the face, hands and neck Saturday evening, when the gas in the cook stove exploded after she had struck a match to light it. The gas collected in the oven and the explosion took place as soon as the match was lighted. She is much improved today and will not suffer much from the injury.

SPLINTER IN HIS HEEL

Otis, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Noble of Arlington, ran a large splinter through his heel yesterday. The pain was so great and the wound so deep that it was necessary to call a physician to remove the splinter.

SAYS SHORTAGE IS A MISTAKE

Item of $103, Charged Against Ed.
Crosby, Former Trustee, by the Examiners, Was Paid.

NEWS MAKES A CORRECTION

May Develop That Other Mistakes
Were Made—Given no Chance to Explain.

That the report of the field examiners, who were here, on the term of office of former trustee, Edward Crosby, will grow more incredible as time brings out the facts, is evidenced by the fact that another item of the alleged shortage has been found to be untrue and that the charge of the shortage was entirely without foundation. This is the second one of the list which has been found incorrect, as no member of the Republican company ever appeared before the examiners and made a statement as was stated in the report and it is highly probable that more will follow.

William H. Blodgett, journeyman scribbler for the Indianapolis News, wrote a long story last Tuesday about the former trustee's alleged shortage, in which he mentioned as one of the items, which had not been accounted for by a receipt and which was charged up against Mr. Crosby, a bill of $103 for supplies, purchased of W. L. Baker of Indianapolis. Last Saturday night the Indianapolis News came out with a correction, stating that the receipt had been found. Hence $103 will be checked off of the shortage charged against him.

It happened this way, according to Mr. Crosby: the former trustee purchased a bill of goods for the trustee's office from Sam Rice, a traveling salesman. The bill of goods was furnished by W. L. Baker of Indianapolis and amounted to $103. It so happened that Mr. Crosby did not have the receipt for the goods and he was charged with that amount of shortage.

W. L. Baker was here one day recently before the county commissioners to explain a bill for supplies and at that time he went to see Mr. Crosby. He told Mr. Crosby that the field examiners came into his office and asked to see his books. They examined them and later returned them, Mr. Baker thinking nothing of the incident at the time. Later when he saw the account of the shortage, he did some examining on his own account. He found that the bill had been paid and that he had given a receipt for the amount. He told Mr. Crosby that he would see that the News made the necessary correction, which they did.

Mr. Crosby says that he could have explained the numerous so-called shortages, if he had been given an opportunity by the examiners. He says that they never consulted him once and never called him up to be questioned in regard to any of the items. He could have explained this one, had they given him the right to protect himself.

WILL IS PROBATED.

The will of Fredrick Feitig of near Waldron, who died recently from an illness brought on by exposure from wandering away from an Indianapolis sanatorium, was probated in the Shelby circuit court Saturday. The entire property was left to the widow and she was named as the executrix.

THE WEATHER

Partly cloudy with local showers tonight or Tuesday.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

Clarence Sargent, Once a Rushville
Boy, Succumbs in Massachusetts.

Ed Crosby received word this morning from Phil Olinger that Clarence Sargent of Somerville, Mass., died July 1. Mr. Sargent was the son of the old photographer, Andy Sargent, and spent his boyhood days in Rushville. For years past he had been a traveling salesman for the dry plate department of the Eastman Kodak Co., and resided in Somerville, Mass.

SUDDEN DEATH CALLS YOUNG MAN

Rhienhart Higley of Mays Died at His Home on Last Saturday Evening.

WIFE AND PARENTS SURVIVE

Rhienhart Higley of Mays died at his home on last Saturday evening, rather suddenly from acute indigestion. He was a prominent young farmer in that section of the county. He had a host of friends and was actively identified with the Mays Presbyterian church. He is survived by his father and mother, William and Mary Higley, and by his wife, Fanny Redding Higley, to whom he was married only last December. The funeral services were conducted at the Fairview cemetery church this afternoon at two o'clock, by the Rev. N. P. Smith of the Mays Presbyterian church. Mr. Higley was thirty-three years of age.

MADDENED BY FLIES AND BREAKS LOOSE

Horse Belonging to Sam Abercrombie Causes Some Excitement, But no Damage.

RUNS A SQUARE ON SIDEWALK

Flies have another mission on earth aside from the numerous ones which have been ascribed to them. They are not only germ carriers, but they also cause runaways. Yesterday afternoon a horse belonging to Sam Abercrombie, which was hitched back of the postoffice, became so infuriated by the biting pests that he broke loose and caused considerable excitement in the eastern part of the city. The animal ran down Perkins street and in attempting to make the turn at Second street, ran into the corner of the Hiner livery barn, slipping and falling on the sidewalk. Before anyone could reach the horse to stop him, he was up and running down the sidewalk. He ran for a block on the walk, narrowly missing trees and houses. The buggy remained fastened to the horse which ran all the way to the Megee home, two miles east of the city, where Young Abercrombie is employed.

YOUNG INFANT DIES.

Laura May Easley, colored, the five-weeks old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Easley, Jr., died at their home in East Seventh street yesterday afternoon. The cause of its death was intition. Burial was made in East Hill cemetery this afternoon.

It cost New York city $43 for witnesses in condemning one cemetery claim valued at $35.

WILL ORGANIZE OLD GRADUATES

Meeting Will be Held in Court House
Tomorrow Night to Perfect
Alumni Association.

HAS BEEN ATTEMPTED BEFORE

Believed That Time is Now Ripe to Make High School Organization a Success.

A meeting will be held in the court house assembly room tomorrow night to perfect the organization of a high school alumni association. It is hoped that a large number of the old "grads." will be present and give the movement a sufficient impetus on the night of its launching so that it will be permanent. The movement has been agitated for over a month and it is said by those who have had the matter in charge, that a number of former high school students are interested in the movement and will lend their presence tomorrow night to make the organization a success. A number of the older alumni have been consulted as well as the younger ones and they are all unanimously in favor of the proposed move.

The lack of a high school alumni association has been a lamentable fact in this city since the high school has been in existence. The organization has been attempted on several occasions but has always failed to the fact that the proper people have not had the work in charge. Interest has never been sufficient to warrant work to make such an association a success.

All of the smaller towns over the county, as well as county seat towns all over the State have high school alumni associations, which have proven to be popular and very helpful, furnishing source of pleasure and enjoyment for the members. The associations generally hold banquets at the end of the school year, when the high school graduates are made members and a good time generally is to be had. That such an organization is a benefit to the school has been proven.

Some of the younger alumni, who have the movement in charge, believe that the time is now ripe for the organization. For that reason they have urged that all of the graduates and former students of the Rushville high school, old and young alike, gather at the court house tomorrow evening at seven-thirty o'clock, to assist in the perfection of the organization. It is believed that enough interest has been aroused, so that the association is now assured a success before its founding.

GOES TO SELL BONDS

County Treasurer Travels to Indianapolis to Make Attempt.

Alvan Moor, county treasurer, went to Indianapolis this morning to attempt to sell the road bonds at four and one-half per cent, the time to be from one to ten years. The county commissioners consented Saturday to change the issue to that extent if they could be sold. He had not returned at three o'clock this afternoon.

Shelbyville Democrat: Considerable feeling against holding a homecoming at St. Paul this year has developed and it may be that none will be held. A petition is being circulated among the residents there asking that the affair be done away with. The opponents of the homecoming say that it adds nothing of material value to the town.

MOUNTAINEERS SEEK REVENGE

More Trouble Promised As Result of Newark Lynching.

VICTIM'S FATHER IS AROUSED

Carl Etherington, the Anti-Saloon League Detective Who Was Lynched by an Ohio Mob, Was a Kentucky Mountaineer, and It Is Said His Neighbors, Headed by His Father, Are Preparing to Avenge His Death.

Cleveland, July 11.—Cleveland associates of Carl Etherington, the Anti-Saloon League detective who was lynched at Newark Friday night for the killing of a saloon keeper, say that Hartwell Etherington, his father, would head a band of mountaineers from Kentucky that would invade the Ohio city to seek revenge for his son's death. It also was said that he would offer a big reward for the names of the ringleaders of the mob. The elder Etherington will receive $5,000 from the Anti-Saloon League, and this, it is said, will be offered as the reward. Private advices from Willisburg, Ky., say that the invading party will be heavily armed and if it marches on Newark there will be a recurrence of the trouble of last Friday. The elder Etherington, in speaking of the death of his son, said, according to a message received here: "My son was justified in what he did. No other man would allow another to pursue without attempting to defend himself. It is a shame for any city to have officers who cannot take care of those who are there to enforce the law."

Governor Harmon, accompanied by Adjutant General Weybrecht, has made a personal investigation of the lynching at Newark. They inspected the jail and interviewed Mayor Atherton, Sheriff Linke and Prosecutor Smythe. Advices from Columbus state the governor will remove Mayor Atherton and will file charges against Sheriff Linke preparatory to his removal. The governor feels that neither official made any proper defense against the mob, otherwise the lynching would have been averted. The funeral of Carl Etherington, the dead detective, was held Sunday, attended by hundreds of persons.

OLD PLAN FAILED

Missouri Train Robbers Found a Crew That Stuck to Post.

St. Louis, July 11.—According to the account of Engineer J. R. Quinn and Fireman E. E. Murphy of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas passenger train No. 3, which was held up at Bissell's cut, about twelve miles north of St. Louis early Sunday morning, the holdup will go down in Missouri's history as the biggest fiasco of its kind on record. The three bandits, ranging in age from about nineteen to twenty-five, stopped the train with a red lantern, fired a number of shots in the air, and then sent word by the engineer to Express Messenger Pete Shelton of Sedalia, Mo., to come out of his car and allow them to rob it. Shelton refused, and after a short consultation the pseudo bandits departed without further ado.

The train crew say they were apparently city hoodlums, and the police are working on several clues which will likely lead to their arrest. The lantern, empty cartridge shells and one of the masks were found at the scene of the holdup.

Policeman Shot Four.

Boston, July 11.—Patrolman Dennis Leary shot four men early last evening when a crowd was attempting to rescue William Deegan of Somerville, whom the police had arrested for drunkenness. According to the police fourteen men, all friends of Deegan and apparently members of the same party returning from an outing, piled on the patrolman when he got Deegan to the patrol box. They are alleged to have knocked the officer down several times and to have beaten him with his own club before he pulled his revolver and blazed into the gang.

The Champ Reaches Gotham.

New York, July 11.—The man who licked Jeffries arrived in New York at 9:30 o'clock this morning on the Twentieth Century Limited from Chicago. Mistuh Johnsing debouched into Depew place a few minutes later and from then on there were doings, gorgeous doings, on the part of the cooled population, who are today giving a big reception to the champion heavyweight of the world.

Presents Twain's Library.

Redding, Conn., July 11.—Mrs. Clara Clemens-Gabrilowitsch, daughter of the late Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain), has formally notified the directors of the Mark Twain Free Library in this place that she will present to that institution, practically the entire library of her father, now in his late residence, Stormfield. The gift includes nearly 2,500 volumes.

GAEKWAR ARRESTED

Ruler of Baroda Encounters a Touch of American Law.

New York, July 11.—For the first time in his life Maharaja Gaekwar of Baroda was under arrest Sunday afternoon. The offense with which the absolute ruler of 2,000,000 Indian subjects was charged was that he had been accessory before the fact to excess auto speeding through the streets of New Rochelle. It may be added that the Maharaja was in the hands of the law no longer than five minutes. It was Prof. Bumpus of the Museum of Natural History who came to the rescue of the East Indian visitor. The halting of the royal auto took place only a few blocks from the Bumpus home and a neighbor carried word to the professor, who lost no time in telling the policeman there might be "international complications" if the Gaekwar of Baroda were to be subjected to the ignominy of being taken to the police station. Prof. Bumpus thereupon formally introduced the policeman to the ruler. The long list of titles and dignities fairly staggered the bluecoat. He saluted the Gaekwar and the incident was closed.

FOREST FIRES COST WISCONSIN MILLIONS

Not for Thirty Years Has There Been Such a Blaze.

Milwaukee, July 11.—The Wisconsin forest fires are estimated to have cost a total of nearly $3,000,000. The losses are tabulated as follows: North of Chippewa Falls, $1,000,000; in Marinette and Wausau and the vicinity, $1,000,000; near Medford and Prentice, $1,000,000.

The danger of fire is now ended, but the ravages have been more serious than ever before since the terrible fires which swept through Phillips and north central Wisconsin in the early eighties, when the city of Phillips then the most promising town in northern Wisconsin, was destroyed and hundreds of persons burned to death. Twenty of the seventy-one counties in the state have suffered this year from the fire. Five mills have been destroyed with an average loss of $100,000 each. The greatest damage, however, has been to the standing timber. Strange to say, there has not been a definitely recorded case of loss of life by fire, though there have been half a dozen deaths from heat prostration while fighting the flames.

An electrical storm that passed over Caldwell, N. J., did damage amounting to thousands of dollars.

MINE DISPUTE IS UNSETTLED

Little Progress Made in Terre Haute Conference.

BOTH SIDES CONTINUE FIRM

Joint Committee of Operators and Mine Workers Are Still Far Apart and There Is No Assurance That the Points of Difference Will Be Adjusted Any Way Soon—The Fining Clause in Contention.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 11.—Little progress has been made toward settling the dispute between the coal miners of Indiana and the operators, and joint committees have been named to take up the work that the two bodies previously appointed failed to do. During the session of the joint conference reports of disagreement of the committees having in charge the work of drafting substitutes of the fining clause, and the five days' limit clause, were read, accepted and the committees discharged. It was during the discussion that followed that both bodies made plain their attitude regarding the settlement of the two problems. The operators contend for the insertion of a fining clause in the permanent contract, but agree to make the instrument as binding on the operators as on the miners. They, however, insist that in case of a shutdown or partial shutdown of the mines by the miners as the result of a grievance, real or supposed, the miners shall pay a fine, to be collected at once.

The mine workers opposed that proposition on the ground that it would be exacting a penalty before the case had been tried by the proper authorities. Another joint committee, consisting of five members from each body, was appointed to take up the work and to report back to the conference.

TROUBLE FEARED

Clash Between Union Men and Strike Breakers Is Imminent.

Brazil, Ind., July 11.—A mass meeting of all union men and sympathizers was held to protest against the shipment into the city by the Hydraulic Press Brick company of strike breakers to take the place of the strikers with which the company has refused to settle. The coming of the strike breakers has aroused a good deal of feeling, and it is likely trouble will start at any time, if the strike breakers leave the plant. Officials of the company, however, are taking every precaution to protect their men and the men will be closely guarded.

H. R. Ireland, assistant secretary and treasurer of the Hydraulic company, stated that it was not a matter of wages between his company and the men, but that the question involved was whether they had a right to run their own plant. He stated that the company is paying the same scale of wages as the other plants and that many of their employees were willing to return to work, but that they were being intimidated by members of the union.

SERIOUS CHARGES

Examiners Claim Township Trustees Spent Too Much Money.

Indianapolis, July 11.—Illegal expenditure of township funds to the extent of $5,481 is charged up against William A. Thornton, trustee of Harrison township, Vigo county, from 1905 to 1908. In a report of field examiners filed with the state board of accounts, F. C. Fiske, trustee of the same township from 1900 to 1904, is charged with the unlawful expenditure of $1,638.50. In this township, in which Terre Haute is located, examiners in a report made public several weeks ago, alleged irregularities in 1909 totaling $6,754.25. Of this amount $3,120.80 was charged against W. O. Weldele, trustee from Jan. 1 to Aug. 10, 1900, and $3,633.45 against his successor, George Weldele. The amount which should be paid back by the four trustees, according to field examiners, totals $13,873.75.

Careless Huntsmen Injured.

Warsaw, Ind., July 11.—While hunting, Wilbur Walton, fifteen years old, shot himself through the shoulder when his gun caught on a fence. He may die. In attempting to climb a fence with a rifle while squirrel hunting, Frederick Greider caught the weapon in a wire and caused its discharge, with the result that he was struck in the side with the bullet. His condition is serious.

THRILLED THE CROWD

Glenn H. Curtiss Took Long Chance at Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, July 11.—Despite the protest of Aero club officers who advised against a flight over the whitecaps too rough to even allow a lifeboat to stay off shore, Glenn Curtiss made an exhibition flight out to sea just before dark Sunday evening rather than disappoint the big crowd which had stood patiently along the boardwalk and on the beach for hours in the hope of getting a peep at an airship in action.

The flight lasted but five minutes, but was a lively exhibition of skillful flying, the squally southerly breeze tipping the plane dangerously as Curtiss described circles over the breakers. Walter Brookings, hero of Saturday's 6,000-foot flight into the air, breaking his Indianapolis record, made no attempt to go upward, instructions having been received by wire from the Wright brothers of their refusal to allow their machines to go up on Sunday.

THE ELKS INDORSE THAT CHARITY PLAN

Indiana B. P. O. E. to Act Role of Santa Claus.

South Bend, Ind., July 11.—Selecting Fort Wayne as the convention city for 1911 and electing an almost entirely new corps of officers, the ninth annual convention, B. P. O. Elks of Indiana, finished its business. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President Frank E. Bougher, Ft. Wayne; vice president, Alvin Padgett, Washington; secretary, Thomas G. Hedian, Indianapolis; treasurer, Joseph H. Millsbaugh, Anderson; esquire, David Carlton, Elwood; inside guard, Charles Foreman, Muncie; trustees, A. A. Ross, Lafayette; George W. Zinky, South Bend.

The convention awarded the banner of the state association, offered annually in the ritualistic contest, to the Anderson lodge.

Action on the new charitable plan of the order, proposed by Frank E. Hering of South Bend, was taken. The association voted to recommend to the lodges of the state that all charitable endeavors take place at Christmas time, and that particular pains be taken to provide a happy Christmas for the needy poor pupils of the public schools. According to the resolution, the lodges will work in conjunction with the school authorities, presenting gifts and articles of clothing to all needy pupils whose names can be secured.

Victim of Pittsburg Bandits.

Pittsburg, July 11.—Lieutenant Shriver Stewart is dying at the South Side hospital, having been shot in the groin early Sunday morning while three men attempted to hold up a streetcar on the Mt. Washington branch at Shalerville. Lieutenant Stewart was on the car and, rushing to the conductor's aid, stood between the latter and one of the robbers, who fired pointblank at him. Stewart fired five shots at the fleeing thugs after being shot.

Boy Crushed by Thrasher.

Evansville, Ind., July 11.—Albert Ziliak, six years old, son of Dr. William Ziliak of St. Wendel, tumbled off a wheat separator and was crushed to death beneath its wheels. The separator was being pulled by a traction engine.

GOOD FIGHTERS IN WAR COUNCIL

Candidates for Congress Cheery Over Prospect.

ATMOSPHERE HAS CLEARED

Taft's Success in Obtaining Progressive Laws Pleases Indiana People, Who Are Ready to Send Republicans to Washington to Continue Good Work—Meeting of Hustling Leaders Serves to Unite All For Campaign Work.

[Indianapolis Letter.]

"I never saw a bunch of congressional candidates more aggressive, more confident, or better agreed as to the demands of the campaign," declared State Chairman E. M. Lee, after a conference with the Republican congressional nominees at state headquarters a day or two ago. "It looks as if the fight to redeem the Indiana delegation would be a real interesting affair all along the line."

"Reports are encouraging. But in addition to remarkably encouraging district and county reports, we have a lot of congressional candidates who are prepared to make the fight of their lives for party victory. All of them already have made splendid progress, and all are hard at work."

"From what I have seen of the Republican timber offered for congress, I am more than ever convinced that Indiana will be found standing back of President Taft at Washington during the last two years of the term."

"Naturally the boys are greatly enthused over the record made by Republicans in the session just closed. They are glad to take the aggressive. The progressive march of the Republican party cannot be checked."

Senator Beveridge, who was in the conference with the congressional nominees, gave out a statement following the session, in which he predicted a large Republican victory in Indiana next November.

The executive committee of the Republican state organization went over the political situation county by county in a recent session, and there has been good cheer and renewed activity at Republican state headquarters, and all along the line of Republican workers, ever since.

Not only has the Republican atmosphere cleared, with the successful record of the Republican majority in the national congress, but the assurance that Theodore Roosevelt is ready to help; that the people are prosperous and strongly inclined toward Republican policies, and that all elements of the party are united in the cause, gives unusual cause for confidence.

The tariff commission idea, and the progressive movement generally, will be urged by all the nominees on the stump.

The state candidates, who have organized and who are working with untiring zeal, join with the congressional aspirants in predicting and in working for complete success.

SEES VICTORY

Senator Beveridge Puts Faith in Citizens of Indiana in 1910 Campaign.

Here is the way Senator Beveridge views the Republican prospect in the state of Indiana, according to a statement given to the press following a meeting of the Republican state executive committee:

"After having thoroughly gone over conditions throughout the state, both by reports from various sources and by personal conferences with reliable men on the ground, I am certain that we shall carry the state this fall by a very heavy majority, a majority which, indeed, will be found to be historic."

"It is not our fight, but the people's fight—we who are candidates are mere incidents in the struggle. I have full knowledge of the powerful forces that are fighting us, and I do not underestimate the resources that will be brought against us or the peculiar skill of those who will use them."

"Notwithstanding all this, my faith in the intelligence and conscience of the voters of this state is absolute, and the reports which I have been going over justify that faith."

"I again repeat and weigh my words when I say that we shall win—and win overwhelmingly."

WOOD'S PLEDGE.

Will R. Wood, renominated by Republicans for state senator from Tippecanoe and Benton counties, has pledged himself to stand by existing liquor laws. He declared it very important that Indiana shall return Senator Beveridge to the United States senate. Russell K. Bedgood, chosen for joint representative from Montgomery and Tippecanoe counties, was a classmate of Senator Beveridge at DePauw university.

Gratifying to Mr. Taggart

Tom Taggart feels he is progressing towards that stage of power where he will be able to re-district Indiana to suit himself. It is gratifying to Mr. Taggart personally, to find the Democratic organization and editors subservient to his will. Will Indiana voters yield first power and place to Mr. Taggart, as Democratic machine men are doing?

SUCCESS ACHIEVED BY HIS OWN LABOR

Finley P. Mount, for Attorney General.

Finley P. Mount is one of those large, roomy, free-moving, self-reliant citizens who has achieved success from the ground up on his merits and by his own labors. He impresses people as a man of ability and sterling integrity. That explains his nomination for attorney general on the Republican state ticket. He is a gifted speaker, and his oration at the Ninth district Republican convention at Lebanon not long ago attracted more than state-wide notice. Mr. Mount taught school, and while teaching at Crawfordsville, studied law. He is of the family which produced Governor Jas. A. Mount. He has been honored by his home people, and is serving as county attorney. He is a trustee of Washburn college.

BOOSTS

Portland has a new cement block factory.

Kokomo is to have a new theater on a large scale.

Washington is raising money to locate a plow factory.

A trolley line is to be built from Ft. Wayne to Chicago.

The new Valparaiso and Northern electric line is being built.

Greentown is to have a branch of the National Mitten Works.

Shelburn reports the largest mine pay roll in the town's history last Saturday.

The West Hammond Savings and Trust company will open its doors August 1.

Vacation traffic on all railroads is breaking records. The people are able to take pleasure trips.

Extensive plans have been made for improving the C. C. & L. railroad, now owned by the C. C. & O.

Freight business at Anderson is so heavy as to demand largely increased facilities for handling the business.

Jasonville has a building boom. More than twenty-five houses are being built to meet the demands of growth.

Hammond business men say times were never better in that city. They also assert that good times are worth keeping.

Gary is in a position to land three new factories on condition that the city furnish girls to do the work demanded.

Marion is trying to land the combined shops of the Clover Leaf and the C. C. & L. railroads which are now controlled by the same ownership.

Reports from Vincennes indicate the heaviest grain-hauling business ever known by the railroads. Wheat prices are high and the farmers are tickled.

Eight new factories are paying $9,000 a week to their employees at Anderson. Live pay rolls mean lively business for merchants.

Edwin Kemp, of Huntington county, has just put in an electric power plant to light his farm home and buildings. This throws new light on the prosperity of the Indiana farmer.

Musical Note.

Guernsey Van Riper, a well-known Indianapolis musical critic, has been chosen to pump harmony into the Democratic party in Indiana through a publicity bureau just established in Indianapolis by Tom Taggart. Mr. Van Riper's "readings" will be interspersed with quartet music by Stokes Jackson, basso; George Beebe, tenor; Sam Ralston, baritone, and Ed Hoffman, second tenor. The organization is looking for some new music, and will remain in seclusion until songs can be found which all may sing.

A Badge of Honesty

Is printed on the outer wrapper of every bottle of

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

and it is the only medicine for woman's peculiar ailments, sold by druggists, the makers of which feel fully warranted in thus taking the afflicted into their full confidence

The more known about the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the more confidently will invalid women rely upon it to cure their peculiar weaknesses and derangements. There's no secrecy about its make-up—no deceptive inducements held out to the afflicted. It's simply a good, honest, square-deal medicine with no alcohol, or injurious, habit-forming drugs in its composition. Made wholly from roots. It can do no harm in any condition of woman's organism.

Devised and put up by a physician of vast experience in the treatment of woman's maladies. Its ingredients have the indorsement of leading physicians in all schools of practice.

The "Favorite Prescription" is known everywhere as the standard remedy for diseases of women and has been so regarded for the past 40 years and more.

Accept no secret nostrum in place of "Favorite Prescription"—a medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, with a record of 40 years of cures behind it.

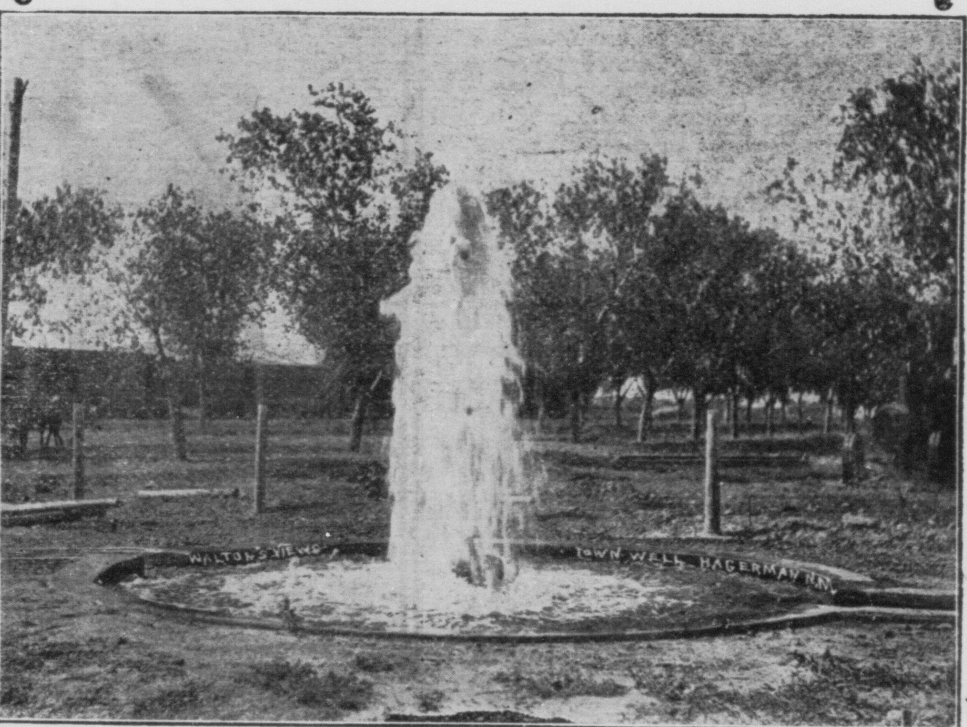

It's foolish and often dangerous to experiment with new or but slightly tested medicines—sometimes urged upon the afflicted as "just as good" or better than "Favorite Prescription." The dishonest dealer sometimes insists that he knows what the proffered substitute is made of, but you don't and it is decidedly for your interest that you should know what you are taking into your stomach and system expecting it to act as a curative. To him its only a difference of profit. Therefore, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

What is a Newspaper?

"What is a newspaper?"

The question is asked many times a day and it is seldom that a concise and correct answer is ever given.

A scribe who had the question asked him many times, finally took occasion to write a carefully constructed definition of "what is a newspaper?" and all who read should profit thereby.

His ideas of what a newspaper really is are:

"It is a public institution and you are as much interested as the editor, the publisher or any other one connected with the paper.

"It is a legitimate business, even as yours is and it takes money to run it, even as it does your business.

"It is one of the greatest institutions of time and always a reflection of the people who live in a town.

"It is the institution that does more charitable work than any other organization in the world today.

"It's a place where you sooner or later come to ask a favor of the editor and if it is not granted you stalk off in a rage, only to quiet down again, when you would be glad if the management did not notice the little incident of yesterday.

"It's the school that turns out the really great men. It's an education in itself.

"It stands in the same attitude to you as do your doctor and lawyer. Its pages could fairly shake the family tree.

"It's the harbinger of more big brain than any other institution in the world. Its pages are our best history.

"It's what makes a business a success or failure.

"It's either your best friend or your worst enemy.

"It's something we all want and must have if we progress.

"It's the town builder, and you know it."

BEVERLY AGOG OVER MR. LOEB

Deep Significance Attached to Collector's Visit.

ROOSEVELT'S SPECIAL FRIEND

When the Man Who Is Considered to Be Closer to the Colonel Than Any Man in American Politics Turned His Steps Toward Burgess Point the Politicians at Beverly Sat Up and Took Notice.

Beverly, Mass., July 11.—William Loeb, jr., collector of the port of New York, came to Beverly Sunday night. Mr. Loeb was secretary to the president when Roosevelt was in office. He was and probably still is closer to the colonel than any man in American politics. Also he is a close friend of President Taft. The president promoted him to his present position, one of the highest salaried in his disposition. Between President Taft, Colonel Roosevelt and Mr. Loeb there is an intimate bond of friendship.

Loeb called at the summer capital at Burgess Point this afternoon. He will discuss with the president the national situation. Out of that meeting may come much. Friends of the president here say that it indicates clearly that between the president and Roosevelt there is the best of good feeling and an understanding which is implied if not expressed.

Mr. Loeb, it was said, does not expect to talk about the New York state situation with the president. There are some men here, however, who go so far as to say that the collector came to Beverly to get the Taft O. K. on the boom for the governorship of New York which has been started by his friends at home. The president has told friends before this that Loeb will be "a good man for the governorship." In answer to inquiries as to that boom, Mr. Loeb was not communicative. He declared that anyone who is looking for him with a governorship boom will have a long journey, for he intends to take a month's hunting trip in the Rocky mountains in the fall. It is believed here that there is no question as to the O. K. of Colonel Roosevelt on the Loeb boom. With that of the president and Colonel Roosevelt, those who profess to know seem to think that Mr. Loeb will not only be the logical candidate, but that he would do exceedingly well. Mr. Loeb believes that there will be a pretty scrap this fall between Mayor Gaynor and William R. Hearst, and that in consequence there will be a fine chance made for the Republican party to win a victory.

With the arrival of Mr. Loeb on the scene the Beverly politicians found explanations for the attitude of Roosevelt toward Senators Beveridge, Brewster, La Follette and Representatives Poindexter and Murdock. It became known that the colonel promised Beveridge to speak in the Indiana campaign because he had already promised Lodge to speak in the latter's interests in the fall. Beveridge is reported as having pointed out to Roosevelt that Lodge is regarded by many as one of the reactionaries of the senate. If Roosevelt could stump for him, the friends of Beveridge are reported as saying, why could not he speak for "the grand young man," the progressive, and old friend of the Roosevelt policies.

As to the rest, Roosevelt was friendly with them all. He could not refuse to see any acquaintances of standing if they desired to climb to Sagamore Hill. The insurgents or progressives regard the colonel as their prototype, and they all wanted to talk to him and pour their troubles into his ears when he got back from the great hunt.

The national situation which the president is discussing with Loeb today is not so vexing in the eyes of the latter as it is in those of others. Last night Mr. Loeb had dinner with Secretary Norton and gave him his views on things in general. In the talk today he expects, it is said, to go carefully over the ground with Mr. Taft.

Rescued With Difficulty.

Silver Lake, Ind., July 11.—While boat riding on the lake near this place Miss Velma Sprigg, sixteen years old, lost her balance when changing her position in the boat, and fell into the lake. The girl was rescued with difficulty, as there was a mass of clinging moss on the bottom of the lake.

RUNAWAY PREACHER AND CHILD ARRESTED

Disappeared From Schenectady, Found at Kansas City.

Kansas City, July 11.—Clinton De Witt Sharpe, the Schenectady (N. Y.) preacher who disappeared early in June with Eunice Graham Whitaker, a fourteen-year-old member of his flock, has been arrested here. The young woman was also taken into custody. Sharpe has a wife in Schenectady. He admitted to the police that he and Miss Whitaker had been living in Kansas City since June 8.

The runaway pair were arrested in a boarding house at 1605 Holmes street. They were living there as Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ellsworth Artwell. The arrest was made at the request of the sheriff of Schenectady. Sharpe has been earning a living by selling religious papers and writing cards and peddling soap. "You won't need any requisition papers; we are willing to go without them," said he to the officers.

ANGRY BOY'S DEED

Young West Virginian Shoots Father on Parental Doorstep.

Huntington, W. Va., July 11.—Victor Walton, eighteen years old, shot and killed his father because the parent tried to coerce his son into returning home to a grief-stricken mother. Young Walton had left home to work in a coal mine. The father went to the boy's boarding house and took his clothes away. When the youth returned to his home for his clothes, father and mother met him on the doorstep. Angered at his father's ruse, the boy shot him dead on the doorstep and inflicted flesh wounds on a brother who tried to interfere. Young Walton is lodged in jail.

Child Killed by Lightning.

Shelbyville, Ind., July 11.—Clarence, six-year-old son of George Mallory, residing near Fenns, was killed by lightning. He was in the wheat field riding the lead horse when lightning struck him and he was instantly killed. The horse which he was riding was also instantly killed and the other animal stunned. His father, who was on the binder, was thrown to the ground but was uninjured.

Physicians Give Him Up.

Laporte, Ind., July 11.—Physicians report that John Shippee, who engaged in a prize fight with Charles Parnell on July 4, will die from the injuries he received in the fight.

A failing tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The stomach also has its hidden, or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organs. One hears of the end seat hog on street cars in cities, of the road hog on country roads, but in town there is the water hog, who gets in his work. The water hog, you know, is the fellow who turns the faucet and lets the water run all the time so that he can have a cool drink any time he wants it and without waiting.

The Lambrigger Wild Animal Show arrived in Rushville Sunday morning from Anderson, where the show did a large business the past week. Miss Tony, the little Chimpanzee lady and Master Joe, the Orang Outang will hold their first reception this evening in Perkins street, between Second and Third streets. These two society favorites are the wonder of the world and the only two on exhibition in this country.

The monster Rainbow Python is by far the largest snake ever exhibited in this city. Anyone having their doubts as to his weight and length are invited to take him out of his glass house and measure and weigh him.

In the rare collection of birds are the Paradise of India, the Military, the Love or Sacred birds, the Dreectoire and many others which are admired by the ladies.

The Lambrigger show consists of 25 cages of rare animals, birds and snakes. It is the largest of its kind in the country, always exhibiting the rarest from all parts of the world.

Don't miss the lectures by that great naturalist which are very entertaining. Go when you will you can miss no part of the exhibition as it is continuous and high class. Daily from 1 p. m. to 10 p. m.

The Vaude management will offer a big feature film of four thousand feet tonight in the picture, "Custer's Last Stand." The ordinary film is one thousand feet long, this one being four times as large. The Indian subject is said to be the most pretentious moving picture ever conceived or ever attempted. It was reproduced on the exact spot where the terrible massacre took place and where the name of General Custer was made famous. The action in the picture is said to be rapid and thrilling and the setting is very elaborate. A new illustrated song will be sung.

The Star Grand offers two good subjects tonight. "Grandfather's Gift," is a charming little story of two sisters, one of whom marries without parental approval and is disowned. Through a trick of fate she receives a note intended for the favored daughter and the little grandchild wins the stern old man's heart. The second subject is "Muldoon's Double." Muldoon goes to sleep on a park bench and an actor, making up like the somnolent preserver of the peace, raids the nearby refreshment stands. He would have gotten away with it but he in turn becomes sleepy, and when he is discovered Muldoon gets square. The illustrated song, "The Same Old Sun is Shining Still," will be sung.

The Palace theater offers a good program tonight in the film, "St Paul and the Centurian." It is a drama, depicting a story that is said to be not only exceedingly interesting, but also highly entertaining. Miss Iva Brown will sing a new illustrated song.

HORSE NOTES

AILEEN LOOKS PROMISING.

Of the seven record pacers Walter Cox has with him two he feels sure of, Aileen Wilson and Branham Baughman, says the Western Horseman. The one with the long name showed better than 2:05 last fall and finished as though he liked the game. Cox has no idea that he can handle flyers like Lady of Honor, Hal Aiken or Direct Hal early in the season, but he does believe that between now and the close of the season he will head a summary. A misstep caused a slight lameness a while back, so he is not quite as far his trainer would like to have him, although he went a comfortable mile in 2:10 in his last workout.

Aileen Wilson is good and last week set the track record at Dover for this season at 2:07 3/4.

Scott Patchen, by the Patchen Boy, and formerly in the stable of Dick Wilson, won the 2:30 pace at Pontiac, Mich., (one-half mile track) June 28 in straight heats. Time, 2:14 3/4, 2:13 3/4, 2:13 3/4. This is fast time for so early in the season. Scott Patchen is a Rush county product, having been bred by "Billy" Jackson.

Expect Many Entrants in Chautauqua Contests

Owing to the interest and practical results of the contest last year, the Chautauqua Association has decided to run another free contest this year in which the residents of Rush county may participate according to the following conditions:

1. Manuscripts on the subjects, "Some Practical Suggestions for the Improvement of the City Park," accompanied by a plat, and "The Growth and Cultivation of Indian Corn," may be submitted to the secretary up until 6:00 p. m. on the first day of August, 1910. Contestants for the prize on the first subject may obtain assistance in drawing the plat. The manuscripts should be legibly written or typewritten on good white paper and should not exceed 1500 words in length.

2. The manuscripts should be enclosed in a large envelope addressed to the secretary of the Chautauqua Association. It should not be signed, but a separate name slip should be enclosed, giving the name of the author, his or her exact postoffice address and if under twenty-one years, the age of the writer.

3. The manuscripts will be submitted after August 1, and until August 6, to competent judges who will be announced later.

4. The papers submitted should be practical and the practical quality of the suggestions made will be given more weight than literary merit, although both qualities will be considered. The judges will decide all controverted questions and their decisions will be final in all matters.

5. The first prize for each subject will be ten dollars in gold; second prize, two season tickets to the Rushville chautauqua in session

August 7-14, 1910; third prize, one season ticket to the Rushville chautauqua in session August 7-14, 1910. Announcement of the winners of these prizes will be made from the platform at the session of the chautauqua on Monday night, August 8th, before the beginning of the program. Announcement will also be made in the columns of the papers.

Domestic Science Contest.

1. $5.00 in gold will be given to the woman or girl of Rush county who submits the best white cake.

All cakes must be turned over to the secretary of the association by 3 p. m. on Monday, August 8. All cakes entered in this contest will be the property of the Association.

A season ticket to the chautauqua to the winners of second and third prizes, respectively, will be given.

2. Any woman or girl of Rush county who submits the best loaf of salt rising bread will be awarded a prize of $5.00 in gold. Second and third prizes each receive one season ticket to the chautauqua.

The rules governing the contest will be the same as those governing the cake contest.

The corn contest should appeal to many young men over the county who are interested in the raising of corn, and there should be a large number of women and girls entering the contest for the prizes for the best cake and best loaf of bread.

The judge of the best cake and best loaf of bread will be Miss Alice Sherkey, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, who will lecture during the chautauqua on domestic science. Competent judges for the first contest will be announced later.

C. G. Clark, proprietor of the Rush County Mills, offers to the winners of the first prize in the domestic science contest an additional $2.50 each, providing the winners shall have used "Purity" flour which is made at his mill.

T. A. Craig is secretary of the contest department and all communications in regard to the prizes and conditions of the contest should be addressed to him.

CHAPTER XIII. THE LURE OF GOLD.

"PHILIP, I want to tell you something."
"Something pleasant?"
"No."

"Then why tell me?"
"Because, unhappily, it must be told. I hope you will forgive me, though I shall never forgive myself. Oh, my dear, my dear, why did we ever meet? And what am I to say? I—well, I have promised to marry another man."

"Disgraceful!" said Philip.
"Philip, dear, this is quite serious," said Iris, momentarily withdrawing her wistful gaze from the faraway line where sapphire sea and amber sky met in harmony. Northeastern Brazil is a favored clime. Bad weather is there a mere link, as it were, between unbroken weeks of brilliant sunshine. At her present pace the Unser Fritz would enter the harbor at Pernambuco on the following morning.

Iris, her troubled face resting on her hands, her elbows propped on the rails of the poop on the port side, looked at Philip with an intense sadness that was seemingly lost on him.

"I really mean what I say," she continued in a low voice that vibrated with emotion. "I have given my word—written it—entered into a most solemn obligation. Somehow the prospect of reaching a civilized place tomorrow induces a more ordered state of mind than has been possible since—the Andromeda was lost."

"Who is he?" demanded Hozier darkly. "Coke is married. So is Watts. Dom Corria has other fish to fry than to dream of committing bigamy. Of course I am well aware that you have been flirting with San Benavides!"

"Please don't make my duty harder for me," pleaded Iris. "Before I met you, before we spoke to each other that first day at Liverpool, I had promised to marry Mr. Bulmer, an old friend of my uncle's!"

"Oh—he? I am sorry for Mr. Bulmer, but it can't be done," interrupted Hozier.

"Philip, you do not understand. I—care for nobody then, and my uncle said he was in danger of bankruptcy, and Mr. Bulmer undertook to help him if I would consent."

He turned and met her eyes. There was a tender smile on his lips.

"So you really believe you will be compelled to marry Mr. Bulmer?" he cried.

"Oh, don't be horrid!" she almost sobbed. "I can't help it."

Tell Some Sick One

It Is Free If It Fails.

Will you do an act of Humanity? Will you tell some sick friend of this, my remarkable offer?

Tell him or her, that you have learned of a medicine so certain that its maker dares say to the sick, "It is absolutely and unconditionally free if it fails."

And you, no doubt, already know of Dr. Shoop's Restorative and its popularity.

For 20 years it has been the standard remedy for Stomach, Kidney and Heart ailments everywhere in America.

When the "inside" or controlling nerves of these vital organs begin to fail, it is Dr. Shoop's Restorative that has quickly vitalized, and strengthened, and brought these nerves and organs back to health again.

I do not dose the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys—for that is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes direct to the cause of these ailments—the failing, faltering, inside or controlling nerves. And herein lies the keynote to my success.

When these nerves are again made well and strong, then that is the certain end of all sickness.

There is a great satisfaction that I am the only physician able to say to the suffering sick, "Take my prescription for full 30 days, and if it fails to help you, the entire expense is mine—not yours."

Then why should the sick take any chance on any other medicine, whose maker dares not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

I also have a Rheumatic Remedy—and that remedy is covered by the same identical "No help, no pay" protective plan.

Besides, you are free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription of personal advice plan. My best effort is surely worth your simple request.

So let me send you an order at once. Take the message to some sick friend.

A postal will bring the opportunity. I will have an honest and trustworthy druggist to whom you can conveniently go for the 30 day test.

But first, ask me for the order, for all druggists are not authorized to give the 30 day test. So write me now and save all dollars. Remember that tomorrow never comes. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

Which Book Shall I Send You?

ONE WEAK SPOT

Most Rushville People Have a Weak Part and Too Often It's the Back.

Everyone has a weak spot. Too often it's a bad back. Twinges follow every sudden twist. Dull aching keeps up, day and night.

Tells you the kidneys need help—For backache is really kidney-ache. A kidney cure is what you need. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys.

Cure backache and urinary ills. Good proof in the following statement.

Mrs. Wallace K. Deem, N. Washington street, Knightstown, Ind., says: "I suffered intensely from constant, dull pains in my back and I could hardly attend to my housework. I felt languid and depressed and was annoyed by a distressing kidney weakness. When Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention, I procured a supply and their use relieved me. I have taken this remedy since then and it has always been of the greatest benefit."

man now breathing can lay better claim than we to have been joined by the Almighty?"

The strange exigencies of their lives during the past two days had ordained that this should be Philip's first avowal of his feelings. Under the stress of overpowering impulse he had clasped Iris to his heart when they were parting on the island. In obedience to a stronger law than any hitherto revealed to her innocent consciousness the girl had flown to his arms when he came to the hut. And that was all their lovemaking—two blissful moments of delirium wrenched from a time of gaunt tragedy and followed by a few hours of self negation. Yet they sufficed—to the man—and the woman is never too ready to count the cost when her heart declares its passion.

"Give you up!" he muttered again. "No, Iris, not if Satan brought every dead Verity to aid the living one in his demand."

Coke, to whom tact was anathema, chose that unhappy instant to summon him to take charge of the ship.

"We're givin' Pernambuco the go-by. It's Macelo for us, quick as we can get there," said Coke.

Hozier was in no humor for conciliatory methods. He turned on his heel and walked straight to where De Sylva was leaning against the rails. "Captain Coke tells me that we are not making for Pernambuco," he said, meeting the older man's penetrating gaze with a glance as firm and self contained.

"That is what we have arranged," said Dom Corria.

"It does not seem to have occurred to you that there is one person on board this ship whose interests are vastly more important than yours, senhor."

"Meaning Miss Yorke?" asked the other, who did not require to look twice at this stern visaged man to grasp the futility of any words but the plainest.

"Yes."

"She will be safer at Macelo than at Pernambuco. Our only danger at either place will be encountered at the actual moment of landing. At Macelo there is practically no risk of finding a warship in the harbor. That is why we are going there."

"And not because you are more likely to find adherents there?"

"It is a much smaller town than Pernambuco, and my strength lies outside the large cities, I admit. But there can be no question as to our wisdom in preferring Macelo, even where the young lady's well being is concerned."

"I see that, whether willing or not, we are to be made the tools of your ambition," interrupted Hozier curtly. "It is also fairly evident that I am the only man of the Andromeda's company whom you have not bribed to obey you. Well, be warned now by me. If circumstances fail to justify your change of route I shall make it my business to settle at least one revolution in Brazil by cracking your skull."

"Let me understand!" said De Sylva. "You hold my life as forfeit if any mischance befalls Miss Yorke?"

"Yes."

"I accept that. Of course you no longer challenge my direction of affairs?"

"I am no match for you in argument, senhor, but I do want you to believe that I shall keep my part of the compact."

"I'm going to 'ave a nap," Coke announced. "Either you or Watts must take 'old. Which is it to be?"

"No need to ask Mr. Hozier any such question," said the suave Dom Corria. "You can trust him implicitly. He is with us now—to the death." Soon after sunset Iris reappeared. She walked on the after deck with San Benavides and seemed to be listening with great attention to something he was telling her.

When Hozier was relieved and summoned to a meal in the saloon with Norrie and some of the ship's own officers Iris was nowhere visible. He went straight to her cabin and knocked. "Who is it?" she asked.

"I. Philip. Will you be on deck in a quarter of an hour?"

"No."

"But this time I want to tell you something."

"Philip, dear, I am weary. I must rest—and I dare not meet you."

"Dare not?"

"I am afraid of myself. Please leave me."

He caught the sob in her voice, and it unmanned him. He stalked off, raging. While off duty he kept strict watch and ward over the gangway in which Iris' cabin was situated. It was useless. She remained hidden.

As Coke had told Iris she might expect to be ashore about 2 o'clock, she waited until half past 1 ere coming on deck. Despite her unalterable decision to abide by the hideous compact entered into with her uncle and Bulmer, her first thought now was to find Hozier.

Iris was thoroughly wretched and not a little disturbed by the near prospect of landing in a foreign country which would probably be plunged into civil war by the mere advent of De Sylva. It need hardly be said that under these circumstances Hozier was the one man in whose company she would feel reasonably safe. But she could not see him anywhere.

At last she hailed one of the Andromeda's men whom she met in a gangway.

"Mr. Hozier, miss?" said he. "Oh, he's forrard, right up in the bows, keepin' a lookout."

This information added to her distress. She ought not to go to him. Full well she knew that her presence might distract him from an all important task. So she sat forlornly on the fore hatch, waiting there until he might leave his post.

The steamer crept on lazily, and Iris fancied the hour must be nearer 5 o'clock than 2 when she heard Hozier's voice ring out clearly:

"Buoy on the port bow!"

There was a movement among the dim figures on the bridge. A minute later Hozier cried again:

"Buoy on the starboard bow!"

She understood then that they were in a marked channel. Already the road was narrowing. Soon they would be ashore. At last Hozier came. He saw her as he jumped down from the fore-castle deck.

"Why are you here, Iris?" was all he said. She looked so bowed, so humbled, that he could not find it in his heart to reproach her for having avoided him earlier.

AN UP-TO-DATE DRUGGIST

says it is surprising how many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old, time-tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy, nothing equaling our grandmothers' "sage tea" has ever been discovered. Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer. Nowadays when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. This preparation is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

For sale and recommended by Hargrove & Mullin.

When the stomach fails to perform its functions, the bowels becomes deranged, the liver and the kidneys congested causing numerous diseases. SIMPLE BALMS
FOR JULY FOURTH

First Aid to Lacerated Young America For Mothers.

HOME LOTIONS OFFSET PAIN.

Soda, Linseed Oil and Alum Good For Burns, But Antiseptics Are Needed When Explosives Cause Open and Serious Wounds—Summon Doctor if Lockjaw Is Possible.

As in times of peace we are admonished to prepare for war, it is as well for the mothers of young America to get their medicine chests ready to do battle with burns of all kinds.

Some simple remedies which each household should have are given here with the hope that they will not be found necessary, but if they are that they relieve the pain of the small sufferer.

A strong solution of common baking soda gives almost instant relief to an ordinary burn. Pour enough water over the soda to dissolve it and apply on a piece of clean linen, or the burn, if it becomes very much inflamed, can be painted with collodion. This is renewed whenever necessary and will subdue the swelling.

For burns covering a large surface equal parts of linseed oil and lime-water are recommended, or four parts of lime-water to one part of oil. Saturate a cloth with the mixture and apply to the parts affected.

Alum Lotion Comforting.

Where a child has burnt himself and the pain causes great nervousness, put a teaspoonful of alum in a pint of water and bathe the parts frequently. Keep the burn wet with the solution, which extracts the heat in a remarkable manner, and put the small patient in bed. The lotion should soothe into a calm and refreshing sleep. Where none of the above remedies is at hand, kerosene or crude oil can be applied to the wound, provided it is not an open one.

For the first application to a burn nothing is really more soothing than a lotion of equal parts of lime water and linseed oil, and this mixture should always be handy in the medicine closet. When the skin is broken it should be applied on lint, as ordinary cloth will adhere to the surface and cause much pain and suppuration.

In cases where the skin is unbroken this lotion may be continued until recovery. But when the surface is raw and the skin nearly or quite destroyed, the lotion should be dispensed with after from eighteen to thirty hours and the following healing ointment used instead.

Oxide zinc, finely powdered 1 ounce
Balsam of Peru 10 drops
Vaseline 8 ounces

Heat the vaseline and stir in the powdered oxide of zinc, being sure to mix well; add also the balsam and let stand until cool. Apply on lint, using the same precaution as specified above.

Lockjaw Must Be Watched.

It should not be necessary to warn parents against permitting their children to play with the more dangerous explosives, such as toy cannons and giant crackers, nor for them to overlook the slightest open wound or scratched skin which might give the terrible germ of lockjaw an opening.

When such an abrasion has occurred apply some strong antiseptic, such as hydrozone, and then send for medical attendance. Sometimes a powder wound will injure the deepest tissues of the skin, producing an effusion of blood into the skin. This is made visible by a livid, deep blue or black patch. A lotion of an ounce of tincture of arnica to a pint of water will remove the pain and hasten an absorption of blood.

Another remedy demands a sufficient quantity of flaxseed meal to form a layer from three-quarters to an inch thick. Spread a cloth the size of the wound. Upon this place small pieces of ice sprinkled with meal. Cover with another cloth, turning in the edges so the mass will not escape, and apply to the burn.

CHICAGO PUPILS MUST SWIM

School Head Enforces Natatorial Course in Curriculum.

With the opening of the outing season, which every year witnesses the sacrifice of scores of boys and girls to death by drowning, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of the Chicago public schools, has instituted a plan which provides that every pupil shall be taught to swim.

In co-operation with officers of the Y. M. C. A. she has arranged for the use of several fine bathing beaches on the lake front at stated intervals, where the school children will be assembled for instruction under professional swimming masters. Pupils will be required to take this training, and markings for proficiency will be given as in other branches of study.

Motorcar Like Swan.

A motorcar designed and owned by a resident of Calcutta has over the usual bonnet the enormous figure of a swan, the eyes of which are composed of prism lenses, which are lit up at night by electricity. The beak is made so that the exhaust can be sent through it, causing a noise like the hiss of a swan.

Partisanship must be intelligent and pure if parties are to serve the voters.

The hired servants of the interests pretend that they are real friends of the people.

Partisanship is worthy only when guided by citizenship.

Every honest business is helped by every law that stops dishonesty in any other business.

Child labor is the crowning infamy of our American civilization.

The curse of this age is greed.

We hear too much of politics, too little of patriotism.

We hear too much of wealth, too little of character; yet character is the purpose of human life.

One Lincoln is a better asset to the nation than all the millionaires ever produced.

Politicians ask you to care for your party; I ask you to care for your country.

I want the great business organizations to serve the people for a fair profit—more than a fair profit is wrong.

I want every man to have his chance in life—less than that is wrong.

I want the prayer of Lincoln, that the nation's heroes shall not have fought and died in vain, to be answered with increasing richness.

I want partisanship to be kept noble and intelligent by patriotism.

Let every citizen think, act and vote for his family and his country.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Thousands of Indiana Democrats are disgusted with Governor Marshall's hidebound partisanship as shown in his ridiculous attack on Theodore Roosevelt. Elsewhere over the country the governor's ill-tempered criticism has produced many expressions of disapproval. That a man occupying the place of the governor of a great Republican state, elected as a Democrat by independent Republican votes, and presumably entertaining the ambition to be president himself, should elect to make an assault on the character of the ex-president is not calculated to raise the governor in the public esteem. Here is what the great periodical, Life, which always is in sympathy with the Democratic party, says of the incident:

"There are a great many Democrats who think they like what they think he (T. R.) stands for, and who use him as a standard in measuring the relative capacities of persons whose qualifications for party leadership they wish to ascertain. They would like nothing better than to find a duplicate of the colonel and run him for president, and they will be slow to warm to any man who sees no good in their pattern candidate. When Governor Marshall of Indiana expressed the other day his confident belief that Mr. Roosevelt had put Mr. Taft in the White House because he knew he was constitutionally unfit for a place which he wished to fill again himself, the governor simply put himself on record as a man who does not know enough about men to be seriously thought of for president. When Mr. Osborne of New York spoke of a man who has 'carried the natural barbarism of his boyhood into a restless and flamboyant middle age,' the question that he invited was: 'Is that all he can see in Roosevelt?' This is a free country, and every man is at liberty to curse out the umpire, but those who do it invite a careful inspection of their judgment."

Though he has many attractive personal qualities, it is impossible to escape the conviction that Governor Marshall is the narrowest and most bigoted Democrat that has filled the Indiana gubernatorial office within the recollection of the present generation of men. He brought to the statehouse with him from Columbia City much of the same spirit that governs ward and precinct politics.—Washington Herald.

NO GLORY IN INDIANA.

The Democrats of Illinois are entitled to much credit for the drastic manner in which they are rebuking the legislative rogues who voted to make a United States senator of a notorious political huckster like Bill Lorimer.—South Bend Times (Dem.).

Traffic on the Increase

The double-tracking on the Pennsylvania, Columbus division, is being opened for traffic as fast as it is completed. Traffic demands more tracks.

POLITICAL BRIEFS

Democrats have given up hope of defeating Congressman Crumpacker in the Tenth district.

Eight district Democrats will nominate John A. M. Adair, of Portland, for congress, at Muncie, July 14.

Ollie James, of Kentucky, the biggest Democrat in captivity, will make a chataqua talk at Kokomo July 23.

Huntington county Democrats are fighting, and one result may be the removal of Z. T. Dungan from the ticket as a candidate for state representative.

Charles W. Stivers, editor of the Liberty Herald, has started a semi-weekly newspaper at Richmond. Mr. Stivers is one of the best known Republican editors in Indiana.

Maurice J. McClew, Republican candidate for joint representative from Steuben and Lagrange counties, is conceded to be a strong man. He was nominated on a full endorsement of the Republican state platform.

J. A. Kautz, editor of the Kokomo Tribune, says Republicans of the Ninth district have good reason to feel that victory is in the air in that part of the state. "We are in better shape than we have ever been for many years," asserts Mr. Kautz.

Mrs. W. A. Cullop, wife of the Democratic congressman from the Second district, has been a foremost society figure at Washington. Mr. Cullop is having a hard time to convince his district that Mrs. Cullop ought to be kept aloof in the Washington swim.

J. Fred France, of Huntington, is mourning the loss of a $5 bill, carelessly left by him on a table in Tom Taggart's cafe at Indianapolis. France is running for a state office on the Democratic ticket, and he figures he will have need of the fiver before November.

C. W. Barker, of Winona, has been nominated by Republicans of Cass and Pulaski counties, for joint senator Everett O. Strong, of Akron, is the Republican nominee for joint representative for Cass and Fulton. Both men are strongly instructed for Senator Beveridge.

An Expert's Opinion of Skin Disease.

A prominent, national expert on skin diseases whose name you are familiar with says that in all his scientific experience he has never found so hard a disease to conquer as Eczema. Yet he does not hesitate to recommend ZEMO as a most successful remedy for the treatment of Eczema, itching skin disease, dandruff, pimples, blackheads and all other diseases of the skin and scalp. He says that not only do its curative qualities make it popular but also the fact that it is a clean, liquid remedy for external use. A great improvement over the old style greasy salves and lotions which are not only unpleasant to use but do not destroy the germ life that causes the disease. ZEMO draws the germs to the surface and destroys them, leaving the skin clear and healthy. Can be used freely on infants. Mr. F. E. Wolcott will gladly supply those who call with a free sample bottle of ZEMO and a booklet which explains in simple language all about skin disease and how to cure yourself at home with ZEMO.

DEFRAUDED OUT OF GOODS IS CHARGE

CARRIED VALISE FULL OF SILK

Arthur Chaunzie, 26 years old, giving his home as Richmond, is held by the Cincinnati police on charges preferred by William H. Turner of Kokomo, who purchased the old Carmichael store here and later sold it. He now owns a store in Glenwood, which is being managed by his brother. Mr. Turner charges that Chaunzie defrauded him out of a large quantity of goods, the explicit charges being "obtaining goods under false pretense." Chaunzie denies that he is guilty, but, when arrested, carried a large valise filled with silks and other goods.

If the public subscribes liberally Boston will soon have a statue of Rev. Edward Hale erected in some conspicuous place, probably in Copley square.

IT'S THE SAME OLD STORY IS REPORT

Investigation Said to Reveal Fact That Merchants Will Not Bid on Township Supplies.

GOODS BUNCHED INTO CLASSES

The story published in this paper Friday and also in numerous Indiana dailies that the new accountant law makes it possible for local merchants to bid on township supplies is said not to be borne out by investigation. It is the same old story of the goods being juggled into classes, twenty-two of them, and with the stipulation that a bidder on any class must supply each article in the class.

For instance, a druggist or paint dealer must have brooms, cocoa, corrugated and steel mats, feather dusters, steel dust pans, etc., if he bids on the floor oil, disinfectant, etc.

The furniture dealer must supply thermometers, wool flags, as well as library tables and chairs.

The firm that bids on toilet articles shall have matches, wash basins, water buckets, mirrors and towel crash in addition to his regular stock.

The store that bids on window shades must be prepared to supply galvanized iron wire guards, as well, and the same runs through all the classes. The stipulations are that in no event can any one of the classes be divided.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

MATCH CAUSES TROUBLE.

(Shelbyville Democrat.)

A belated story of a boxing match which resulted in the fainting of two ladies and an aged gentleman reached this city Saturday. The bout took place last Sunday afternoon at the home of John Piles, near Moscow, and Mr. Piles himself was the one who suffered most seriously from its after effects.

Nearly a hundred guests were gathered at the Piles home to celebrate Mrs. Piles' fifty-sixth birthday anniversary and among them were John Stanley of Shelbyville and Walter Brown of Madison. Stanley has been training for some time in preparation for entering the prize ring and Brown has been giving him instructions. When someone suggested that the two don the gloves and give an exhibition bout on the lawn for the benefit of the guests both readily consented. A ring was constructed and the match was soon progressing with vigor.

Mr. Piles, Stanley's grandfather, stood the strain until the blood began to flow from his grandson's nose and then collapsed. He is subject to heart trouble and for a time it was feared he could not recover. His fainting was followed by that of two ladies among the crowd of spectators and the bout was hastily stopped without a decision being rendered. Reports from the Piles home indicate that Mr. Piles is still in a rather serious condition.

ANCIENT SWISS CHEESE.

Newspapers report that in the Alpine regions of the Swiss cantons of Vaud and Valais cheese-makers will keep their products for years. They assert that cheese improves with age. At Les Ormonts, in the canton of Vaud, it is customary to make special cheeses for certain family feasts. They are tagged with explanatory labels and eaten several years later, at other feasts, or even at funerals. Often such cheeses are bequeathed from one generation to another as family souvenirs. Recently, at Les Ormonts, in a concealed shelter, there was discovered a cheese dating from 1785. It was as hard as a rock and had to be cut with a saw. It is reported to have tasted good.
